'Plain and Fancy' Opens Tomorrow

"Plain and Fancy," a musical comedy production by the Long Beach Civic Light Opera Association, will open tomorrow in the Long Beach Municipal Auditorium Concert Hall for a limited engagement. Subsequent performances will be July 9, 15, 16, and 17.

This opera is a musical story of life among the Amish—Pennsylvania Dutch—and some of the hilarious things that happen when a couple of "fancy" New Yorkers drop in for a visit. The complications, humours and romantic, produced by this meeting of city folk with "plain" Amish, result in an evening of sheer delight. "The show is wholesome, family entertainment, with children playing a vital part in the on-stage proceedings," a spokesman for the association said.

EARLY CONTESTANTS to Torrance's annual Rodeo Queen contest, Sheri Sidebotham and Donna Stoekel, discuss the oncoming event. Applications to the contest are due July 8. Miss Sidebotham, 20, is owner of a modeling agency for European girls and also runs a dress and hair design shop. Miss Stoekel, 17, who will be a senior at North High, has done modeling with the Gene Bonhardt Studios.

Local Graduates Receive Honors for College Work

Four Torrance High School graduates recently were honored at UCLA, revealed school officials recently.

Vern Robinson, associate director of the UCLA office of relations with schools, reported that: Jerry Rae Buchholz was elected to Phi Beta Kappa last spring, while Kathleen Anne Jones and Nathan Delynn Smith were named to the dean's honor list in the College of Applied Arts. Lee Newell Mortensen received honors with his bachelor of science degree.

Dog Enthusiasts Oppose Doctors About Research

Dog lovers and doctors jammed the Board of Supervisors' hearing room today to argue the fate of the stray canine which finds itself in the custody of the County Poundmaster.

This, as Supervisor Burton W. Chace, prior to the hearing, announced he would not heed the requests of doctors and research institutions to have dogs released for medical research after they are unclaimed for five days.

County Poundmaster Marvin T. Thronson told the board he is opposed to releasing stray animals for experimental purposes.

"We expect to issue approximately 172,000 dog licenses this year," Chace said, "and the department of the County Poundmaster is entirely self-supporting."

"The dog owner and dog lover completely supports this department without the aid of general fund money and as far as I am concerned, the wishes of the dog owners are paramount," Chace declared.

The supervisor said it was apparent to him during past hearings on the same subject that pet owners are unalterably opposed to turning strays over for medical research.

While the department is not now permitted to knowingly release animals over to laboratories, it has been suggested that some are now being claimed at the County Pound indirectly, without the knowledge of the Poundmaster.

for medical research.

"Stray animals must be kept for a period of at least five days," Chace explained, "thereafter at the discretion of the department the animal may be disposed of."

However, the Pound Department does endeavor to find homes for as many of the animals as possible. Those animals which are vicious or not of pleasurable type are put to rest.

Fees for claiming a stray dog at the County Pound at the present time are $3.50 placement charge; $4.00 license fee for animals over four months old; and a $3 inoculation charge, bringing the total to $10.50 plus tax.

Nearsightedness Halted by Contact Lenses?

contact lenses on progressive nearsightedness. These finds may be another factor in stimulating the already remarkable increase in adoption of contact lenses. Get Fourteen hundred patients with steadily worsening cases of myopia were fitted with contact lenses, and at the end of a two-year period, none of these patients showed further increase in nearsightedness. Some even showed signs of improvement. A London physician stated that English specialists for eight years discovered a containing effect of
